COALITION TO INSURE AGAINST TERRORISM
www.insureagainstterrorism.org

July 30, 2007

The Honorable Barney Frank, Chairman
House Financial Services Committee
2129 Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20510

Dear Chairman Frank:

The Coalition to Insure Against Terrorism (CIAT), a broad-based coalition of business insurance policyholders representing a significant segment of the nation's GDP, strongly endorses H.R.2761, the Terrorism Risk Insurance Revision and Extension Act (TRIREA) of 2007 introduced by Representative Michael Capuano and others that would extend and improve the Terrorism Risk Insurance Extension Act (TRIEA). As the principal consumers of this vital insurance coverage, CIAT thanks you for your long-standing support and leadership on the issue of terrorism risk insurance.

The current federal terrorism risk insurance program has been a tremendous success. TRIEA has helped keep the economy going in the face of continued terrorist threats by allowing businesses across America to secure this commercially necessary product, saving countless jobs in the process. Moreover, it serves as an important tool to minimize the severe economic disruption that almost certainly will occur from a future terrorist attack.

With TRIEA's expiration looming at the end of 2007, CIAT earlier this year outlined a number of key enhancements to the program that we believe need to be part of any extension legislation. CIAT is pleased that H.R.2761 includes these key provisions.

Most important to policyholders are four provisions. First, the program's term would be extended to ten years. We applaud H.R.2761 for recognizing that such an extension affords policyholders with the certainty necessary for long-term projects and economic activity to move forward. With this in mind, CIAT strongly supports the amendment to be offered by Rep. Peter King to extend the program to fifteen years.

Second, H.R.2761 would give businesses an important new option to purchase insurance for catastrophic non-conventional terrorism risks - the types of risks our government warns us about repeatedly - by making available to policyholders insurance against weapons of mass destruction - so-called NBCR risks - under "same terms and conditions" as "conventional" risks.

Third, this legislation would eliminate the distinction between foreign and domestic acts. As the London bombings and the foiled Kennedy Airport plot demonstrate, we must be prepared for "home-grown" terrorism as well as threats from abroad.

Fourth, H.R.2761 would lower substantially the program's trigger level which will encourage smaller insurers, currently unable to participate in the program, to return to the terrorism risk insurance marketplace, thereby providing policyholders with a wider choice of insurance options.

Lastly, there is an additional issue of importance to CIAT. CIAT strongly opposes any increase in the "recoupment" provision contained in TRIEA. We consider any increase above the current amount to be an excessive burden on the victims of terrorism and has the potential to be a lengthy drag on the economy in the aftermath of the next terrorist attack.

CIAT thanks you for taking a significant step towards securing the economy against terrorism risk by scheduling this mark-up.

Sincerely,

The Coalition to Insure Against Terrorism
